RESPECT

DIVERSITY

For JUN (Company) to succeed as a professional firm, we must strive to reflect the diversity of the communities in which we operate. That means we must maintain a workplace atmosphere that attracts and develops people from various backgrounds.

If we do not treat one another with respect, we will not maintain a comfortable and professional atmosphere. Our professionalism is vital to our Company's reputation and retaining our diverse founding base. Together, we must strive to create a workplace that is free from discrimination and harassment.

EQUAL OPPORTUNITY AND NONDISCRIMINATION

Discriminating against someone for his or her traits is a violation of our Code, Company policies and, in some cases, the law. Such actions have no place within JUN. JUN does not discriminate against others based on race, color, gender, age, sexual orientation or identity, national origin, ethnicity, religion, marital status, pregnancy, physical or mental disability or veteran status. Our Company makes employment-related decisions based on merit. To be clear, "employment-related decisions" include those involving the hiring, and termination of personnel.

HARASSMENT

In addition, our Company does not tolerate harassment. Harassment can take many forms, including verbal remarks, physical advances, or visual displays, and may come from colleagues or clients. The legal definition of harassment may vary depending on where we are doing business, but such behavior always has the purpose or effect of creating an intimidating, offensive or demeaning environment for another person. It is a form of discrimination and, as such, has no place at JUN.

It is important to note that harassment can be sexual or non-sexual in nature. Sexual harassment may include:

- Unwanted advances
- Inappropriate touching
- Sexually suggestive comments or jokes
- Requests for sexual favors
- Inappropriate comments about another's Appearance

Non-sexual harassment may include:

- Offensive comments
- Jokes or pictures related to race, religion, ethnicity, gender or age

In order to keep harassment out of our workplace, we must be sure that our comments and actions are appropriate and respectful. If you feel that you have experienced or observed any discriminatory or harassing behavior, you are encouraged to disclose the situation to the Chief Human Resources Officer, or JUN's Board of Directors, immediately.

UPHOLDING HUMAN RIGHTS

As part of our commitment to our community, we uphold individual human rights in all of our operations, and we oppose the use of modern slavery in all forms. This means, in part, that we provide reasonable working hours and fair wages for those who eventually work on our behalf.

JUN has a zero-tolerance policy for the use of child or forced labor, or human trafficking practices. Further, we will not knowingly do business with subcontractors, business partners or vendors who violate these practices. JUN could be held accountable for the conduct of these individuals and entities. Therefore, if you have reason to believe any third party is engaging in any of the above practices, report the misconduct immediately.

For more information, contact JUN's Board of Directors.

With respect to labor and employment matters, we adopt and adhere to the following principles set forth in the UN Global Compact:

SUBSTANCE ABUSE

The work we perform for JUN requires us to have sharp, clear minds. Therefore, we must never report to work under the influence of drugs, alcohol or any other substance that may impair our ability to work safely and productively. Our Company prohibits the possession, use, sale, purchase or distribution of any illegal drugs or controlled substances by any employee, consultant, or contractor on Company premises, during working hours or when conducting Company business. Lawfully prescribed medications can be used while at work, provided that their use does not adversely affect job performance or our safety.

While JUN may permit limited alcohol use at approved Company events, you must always use good judgment and exercise moderation in these situations.

VIOLENCE

Acts of threats or violence interfere with our commitment to health and safety and will never be tolerated.

Any threatening behavior, even if made in a seemingly joking manner, must be reported immediately. Also, weapons are never permitted on any JUN premises. If you or someone you know is in immediate danger, call law enforcement authorities immediately.

Then, report the matter internally through normal channels.

PORNOGRAPHY

It is not permissible to possess, distribute, or view pornographic material on JUN property, or use JUN equipment (including computers) to obtain or view such materials. You are strongly encouraged to report the existence of pornography to Human Resources so that appropriate action may be taken, including notification of the proper authorities.

5 GENDER EQUALITY

In 2019, women only held 28 per cent of managerial positions worldwide

Ensure women's full and effective participation and equal opportunities

For leadership at all levels of decision-making in political, economic, and public life.

The board of Directors at JUN consists of 67% women and JUN is proud to be the leading company and motivator on the road towards global equality

ANTI-CORRUPTION LAWS

We never use, support or promote corrupt practices in the locations where we do business. We abide anti-corruption laws, wherever we work. These include the OECD Convention Against Corruption, the United Nations Convention Against Corruption and local jurisdictional laws and regulations. These laws generally prohibit bribery of “Government Officials,” and some also criminalize bribery of private persons.

In general, anti-corruption laws specifically prohibit making, promising, offering or authorizing any bribe or kickback in order to obtain an improper business advantage. Our Company will not tolerate any form of improper payments. Just as we cannot make improper payments on JUN’s behalf, we also cannot engage an agent or any type of third party to make an improper payment for us. JUN also prohibits “facilitating payments,” which are small payments made to individual officials to expedite routine government actions.

A “bribe” or improper payment can be anything of value, including:

- Cash payments
- Charitable donations
- Loans
- Travel expenses
- Gifts and entertainment
- Other favors

In short, any payment or anything of value given with the intent—or even the apparent intent—to improperly influence decisions, obtain information, obtain, or retain business, secure services or induce others to take actions favorable to JUN, is bribery, and is never allowed. Anti-corruption laws are complex, and the consequences of violating these laws are severe. For this reason, one should avoid any activity that could be construed as corrupt.

PREVENTING MONEY LAUNDERING AND TERRORIST FINANCING

JUN is dedicated to the fight against money laundering and terrorist financing. These illicit activities have become the focus of considerable attention by governments, international organizations and law enforcement agencies around the world. This is an issue that our Company takes extremely seriously.

“Money laundering” is the process by which criminal funds are moved through the financial system in order to hide all traces of their criminal origin. “Terrorist financing” refers to the use of funds that may come from legitimate or criminal sources but are destined for terrorist organizations.

It is extremely important that we know and comply with all laws and regulations aimed to halt money laundering and terrorist financing. To do this, we must be vigilant and exercise good judgment when dealing with unusual or suspicious client transactions. This, of course, means never alerting an organization or individual with whom you have a relationship of any impending or ongoing investigation against them. You also have a duty to alert JUN’s Board of Directors about any situation that seems inappropriate or suspicious. If you have further questions or concerns, contact JUN’s Board of Directors.

SUSTAINABILITY

Our responsibility stretches beyond the limits of JUN; from employees to surrounding locations and the environment. JUN strive to achieve transparent and good communication with all those affected by our activities.

We perceive our sustainability work as a central part of our operations and as important for our long-term value creation.

Responsibility for the environment is reflected in our engineering and design activities at JUN. We place great value on reducing our client’s environmental impact and the ambition is to conduct business in a sustainable manner. We help our customers in their sustainability initiatives through our customized engineering solutions. Our ambition is to develop new designs for our clients that contribute to more sustainable development in society.

WAIVERS AND AMENDMENTS OF OUR CODE

Our Code and other policies apply equally to any employee of JUN. Waivers for officers and directors of JUN, must be approved in advance by the Board of Directors.
